Are They Judges

or Legislators?

Today's Quotation
Men are the sport of circumstances; when the circumstances seem the sport of men.
—Lord Byron

We have another curious development in the United States Supreme Court, that befuddled body whose members look like judges but speak and act like politicians. On April 3 the court reported a decision upholding the right of the Democratic state chairman of Alabama to bar from that state's primary ballot the name of Edmund Blair as a candidate for president. Mr. Blair having taken it upon himself to announce in advance that he wouldn't vote for Harry Truman or anyone else supporting the "civil rights" program, even though nominated by the national convention.

The April 3d decision by the court was sound American law. Some segments of Southern political opinion have monkeyed around with Philadelphia-lawyer logic until they've made themselves ridiculous — and most ridiculous of all is the contention that a state can have universal suffrage under the Electoral College system without binding the state's electors to vote exactly the way the citizens instruct them in the general election. Any presidential elector in any state who disregards the popular returns has violated his oath and ought to be slapped into jail.

The supreme court was right as rain in its April 3d decision. So what happens? Well, two of the justices dissented from that decision. They were Robert H. Jackson, of New York state, and William O. Douglas, of Washington state. What they objected to related to a longer political speech than was given at the time of the April 3d decision's announcement — so they waited until last Tuesday, April 15, an interval of nearly two weeks. You read what they had to say in yesterday's Washington dispatches.

Justice Jackson said — and Justice Douglas agreed — that the reason they voted against the Alabama decision was because they felt the United States should abolish the Electoral College system of choosing presidents and vice-presidents. Jackson's exact words were:

The Electoral College system "is a mystifying and distorting factor in elections which may resolve a popular defeat into an electoral victory."

That's what Jackson and Douglas, merely two Americans out of 150 million, went into a huddle about and came up with language as strange and mystifying as age as the Electoral College system. They say the Electoral College system is:

I ask what kind of judges they are to rule against the established law of the land, in the Alabama case, merely because they happen to think the law ought to be changed?

The aren't judges — they are legislators.

And the most dangerous kind of legislators because,

1. They are appointed officials, in no wise responsible to the people, and,

2. Their kind of "legislation" comprises only nine men — in which "legislation" one man, not even elected by the people, could conceivably rewrite the fundamental law of the land in which 150 million Americans dwell.

Jackson and Douglas know very well that the legal avenue to abolishing the Electoral College is a constitutional amendment, passed by the congress and ratified by three-fourths of the states. What they said by their dissent statement of April 15 was the most improper utterance ever to come from the United States Supreme Court.

They have no business being on the bench. They are legislators — not judges. How can they have the audacity to advertise themselves as men of fair and judicial approach when their every word and action proclaims their ambition — even determination — to be both legislator and judge?

And if the supreme court is to be our law-making body then where will we go to have the justice of each new law tried and tested?

All civilized countries have law-making bodies. But the thing that has made the American republic distinctive is its federal constitution, with the supreme court appointed to defend that constitution against disruptive laws passed by the congress. But today the supreme court is filled with legislators, writing laws instead of judging them, and betraying the very constitution which they swore when taking office to defend.

The United States needs a new administration in Washington — if for no other reason than to force legislators off the supreme court bench and restore it to men who are judges in fact as well as name.

Roundup Club Meets Tonight

Hope Roundup Club will hold an important meeting in the Coliseum tonight at 7:30 at which time uniforms will be selected. During the business session, the following officers will be elected:

Omaha Anxious as Missouri Nears Crest

Omaha, Neb., April 17 (AP)—There was watchful waiting on still-rising waters and speed in the rehabilitation job in the flood-ravaged Midwest today as the forces of nature surged southward to spread more misery.

The Missouri, the Mississippi, the Milk in Montana, the Red River of the North in Minnesota and the Minnesota River all have hit with punishing blows and have a lot left to deal out.

At least two persons have died in the floods.

The Missouri having sent thousands of families hiking for high ground in one of its worst rampages, was beating at the Metropolitan Omaha-Council Bluffs area.

A record crest of 31.5 feet is due tonight.

Caldwell New President of University

Fayetteville, April 17 (UP) — Dr. John Tyler Caldwell, the new president of the University of Arkansas, will assume his duties here July 1.

University Provost Joe Covington said late yesterday that Dr. Caldwell had informed him by telephone that he will be finished with his work as chief administrator at Alabama college in Montevallo, Ala., by mid-June, and that he would take over his duties here July 1.

Dr. Caldwell, who will be the 15th president of the Arkansas institution, was named successor to Dr. Lewis Webster Jones by the university board of trustees yesterday. The post became vacant when Dr. Jones resigned last fall to accept the presidency of Rutgers University in New Jersey.

Ex-Arkansan to Direct 4-Point Plan

Washington, April 17 — Stanley Andrews, native of Missouri and former editor in Arkansas and Kansas, is slated to be next director of the Point Four program a congressional source said today.

The source, who declined to be quoted by name, said Andrews' nomination probably will be sent to the Senate by President Truman in the near future.

Andrews, as a special consultant, has been assisting the State Department with the program since the death of Henry G. Bennett, head of the Technical Cooperation Administration, in a plane accident last Dec. 11 in Iran.

For that work, he has been on loan from his post of director of the Office of Foreign Agriculture Relations with the Agriculture Department.

Born Dec. 18, 1895, at High Point, Mo., Andrews is a graduate of the University of Missouri. Among his newspaper assignments, Andrews was editor of the old Little Rock News and a special writer for the Arkansas Democrat.

He served as an expert on food with the army during the war and was deputy director for food and agriculture in the U. S. zone in Germany after the war, holding the rank of colonel. He returned to Germany after the war, holding the rank of colonel and agriculture for the U. S. and British zones. He was advisor to General Clay on food during the Berlin air lift.

The factory representatives are expected to trace GMC's strong rise in the truck market to fourth place nationally, and to point out new opportunities for GMC dealers in the future.

The GMC zone manager, J. E. Stacy, will be host of the meeting. Stacy will discuss the company's plans for the future.

Convicts Hold Out in N. Jersey Prison Mutiny

Trenton, N. J., April 17 (UP) — Sixty-eight mutinous convicts held out today in their captured New Jersey prison print shop but the warden predicted hunger would force them to surrender by nightfall.

The convicts, including several "desperate" criminals, seized the two-story stone building at 10 a. m. EST Tuesday in the third rebellion against Warden William H. Carly's administration in 17 days.

Carly said that to all extents and purposes the men had gone with out food and water since they mutinied, although sandwiches had been passed through a broken window periodically for two guards and two civilian instructors held as hostages.

Prison officials speculated that the rebels might have stored food supplies in the print shop before seizing the building and erecting barricades with heavy tables and equipment.

However they pointed out it was unlikely the men had brought in enough provisions to supply their needs during a prolonged "strike."

State officials promised the men yesterday a "complete hearing" of their grievances if they would come out but they shouted out last night they would not leave their bastion until Carly is discharged.

'Greatest Show on Earth' Dominated by Headliners From European Nations

By ROBERT L. GOWE (For Hal Boyle)

New York, April 17 — "The Greatest Show on Earth" is dominated by European headliners. How come?

Well, it seems leading American acts are now almost non-existent and what few there are are mostly seen on television. So the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus recruits most of its top talent in West Europe.

Descendants of American circus performers are more apt to be singers or dancers aiming at the films, television or radio.

"They don't like the hard work attached to becoming a top circus performer," said a circus spokesman.

There is still a strong family tradition in European circus families he said. The children are trained to follow their parents on a trapeze or into a lion cage. They are put in the act as soon as possible.

Oscar Konyot, Hungarian-born lion tamer citizen of Milan, may offer an object lesson in why the circus is losing its attractiveness for American performers. Konyot is in the hospital suffering from a badly-mauled left arm.

The lion-tamers spectacular performance ends as he urges the lions to dash madly about the big cage. They leap over him and bounce from the wire walls. One lion didn't leap over him — but on him.

Konyot's assistant, a lean wiry young man, Paul Fritz, of Berlin, took over the whip with some trepidation. "I have been working with lions for some 10 years but as you can see I have some scars to show," he pushed back his hair to reveal several scalp wounds.

The danger always present is illustrated by the performance of the lion tamer.

Harriman New Democratic Possibility

New York, April 17 (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's foreign affairs trouble-shooter, may be named as a Democratic presidential candidate.

Harriman, director of mutual security, will be honored tonight at a $100-a-plate dinner sponsored by the New York State Democratic Committee.

Coming at this time, the affair reflects strong support among the committee's membership to give Harriman the state's 94 votes at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Tomorrow, the state's 82 Democratic county leaders meet here to discuss "the presidential situation"—full of more party question-marks since Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois renounced White House ambitions.

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Senator Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) today threw his support behind Estes Kefauver of Tennessee as "the best available candidate of our party" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Heat Taken Off Plant at Arkadelphia

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Another extension has been agreed to in the efforts to obtain approval of a contract for supplying electric power to Reynolds Metals Company's proposed new plant near Arkadelphia, Ark.

The new deadline will be next Wednesday.

The Federal Power Commission still has to give its approval to the contract between Reynolds as purchaser and Southwestern Power Administration, which markets federally-produced power, and the Arkansas Power and Light Company as power suppliers.

Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman, whose department has supervision over SPA, said he hopes an agreement might be reached today. And Walter Rice, vice president of Reynolds, said, "I think we are making progress."

Rice announced a 7-day extension of the contract, without which the agreement would have been void last night.

Rice said a formal proposal would be submitted to FPC today. He declined to disclose its terms.

Although all three parties have agreed to the contract, it is necessary under federal law that FPC also approve.

Members of the FPC staff—the commission itself has taken no final action—have said they consider the price SPA would receive for power too low.

Trained Chicks to Be Shown at MidSouth

"Guess my chickens just lacked educational opportunities!" This was the comment of an old chicken raiser after viewing a half-hour show staged by a troupe of trained chickens.

Mr. A. E. Slusser of the Mid South Cotton & Supply of Hope reports that the famous trained chickens sponsored by General Mills will be brought to Hope on Saturday, April 19th for a gala open house celebration.

This famous troupe of trained chickens include a bird that can add, subtract, and extract square root; outfit a shell-game operator, and beat any man in the audience at stud poker.

These chickens are educated! They are trained by a former college professor, Keller Breland, psychologist and animal trainer of Lonsdale, Ark. Keller Breland was formerly a member of the University of Minnesota faculty.

Herman, the only rooster in the troupe, is the mathematical genius. He pecks out the answers on a "shell game" board. He puts the old carnival barker to shame. Lizzie is the "card shark" member of the act. Her game is stud poker. She will select cards from a rack and outdraw anyone in the audience.

Henrietta is the "quiz kid" member of the troupe and will answer "yes" or "no" to any of your questions.

General Mills, Inc., maker of Larro Feeds is sponsoring the open house at the Mid South Cotton & Supply.

Students from the intermediate, junior and senior high schools will participate in the program. This is the first year that the Spring Hill schools have

DOROTHY DIX

Divided Loyalty

Dear Miss Dix: Two years ago I married a man who is abusive and an alcoholic. He spends his money on himself and for good times of his own. I have nursed him through several periods of illness and have tried to make a good home for him. I have had to work since we were married to support myself and keep the home together. I have two children by a previous marriage, and my husband bitterly resents them. His family tries to keep him from drinking, but they give me no cooperation when I try to stop him.

I left him once but he begged me to come back. His promises didn't last long. Now he has decided to leave town and start all over again somewhere else. I would have to leave my children if I went with him, and this I don't want to do. His family is very bitter toward me because I feel my place is with my youngsters. He wants me to leave the children with their grandmother and go with him. Where does my duty lie?

MARGIE
Answer: While a mother's paramount duty is to her offspring, there are times when a little whole some neglect may be exercised for the possibility of a greater good. Such a case of divided loyalty arises in your case.

If you want to stand on the actual question of obligation, your children come first. However, if there is a chance that your husband will rehabilitate himself in another town and be willing to again assume his job as head of the family, I think it's worth some sacrifice on your part to help him.

Be Sure They're Cared For
You must first be sure the children are well cared for, if their grandmother is willing and able to take them, let them stay with her for a few months. Then you must have some assurance of your husband's good intentions. The best help for him would come through ions on how to improve quality of canned and frozen foods.

The hostess served refreshments to 13 members, one new member, Mrs. James Voss, and two guests, Mrs. Luck Betts and Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, HD Agent.

AM&N Head to Be Inaugurated

Pine Bluff, April 17 (AP)—Dr. Lawrence Davis has been president of Arkansas A. M. and N. College (Nebraska) since 1942, and now he's going to be inaugurated.

His formal inauguration has been set as a part of a celebration of the 79th anniversary of founding of the college beginning next Wednesday. Originally, Dr. Davis' inauguration was delayed by World War two. Then the college just never got around to it for one reason or another.

The anniversary observance is primarily to celebrate the completion of a 1.7 million dollar building program started in 1941. By next week five new buildings constructed under the program will be in use.

The buildings will be dedicated with other and more eligible girls.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a freshman in high school and in love with a man 27 years old. He and his wife don't get along and are thinking of getting a divorce. We have been seeing each other for about three months. Do you think I should forget about him or wait until he is free?

A. N. X.
Answer: If you had given your name and address I'd have written your mother to stop this crazy affair before it goes too far. The man should be sent to jail and you should be locked in your room until you come to your senses. How can a nice young girl get mixed up with a scoundrel who robs the cradle for a little diversion? Stop seeing him at once and go with boys in your own group.

MRS. L. T. M.
Answer: Both your son and the girl are being fair from honorable in their actions. I'm sure they are old enough to know it too, regardless of his assurance to the contrary. He should stop seeing her at once, and try to make dates

Atomic Sponges May Be Used on the Brain

By FRANK CAREY
Science Writer

While Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 17 — Science is investigating the possibility of mopping up brain tumors with atomic sponges, two Chicago surgeons reported today.

The doctors said animal experiments had suggested the possibility that special sponges, filled with radioactive materials and inserted into the human brain, might kill off possible remnants of malignant tissue after all visible cancer was removed by surgery.

Dr. Royal Davis and Dr. Stanton J. Gonsky are conducting human experiments under way and that results would be reported at a future date.

They said absorbable sponges made of gelatinous or soggy material — sometimes employed for checking hemorrhages — were being used. And they declared the radioactive materials for impregnating the sponges consisted of either gold or phosphorus.

Reporting to a scientific meeting of the American Surgical Association, the scientists said the major difficulty in attacking cancers deep-seated in brain tissue is that when the visible tumor is removed by surgery, cancer tissue can remain in the tumor "bed."

X-ray could be used to kill this remaining tissue, but its deeply penetrating rays might also destroy normal tissue in the brain.

Tests with rats showed that when sponges impregnated with radioactive gold or phosphorus were inserted in the brain, the tissue-killing power of the rays was limited to a tiny area around the place of insertion.

Clown Called 'Stupid' Boosts Fire Prevention

BARREL DRESSED man paraded Magnolia's streets with a sign to explain his plight.

BEHIND "HOOP-LA" was serious inspection to wipe out fire hazards like this one.

CLOWN "STUPID" helped lecturer get fire prevention message across at school show.

By NEA Service

Magnolia, Ark. — (NEA) — For three days this spring a crudely dressed clown called "Stupid Caricature" led Magnolia's firemen a mighty tough chase. Every time they blinked their eyes, he had started a fire. And as fast as they put one out he'd gone and set another.

"Stupid" was finally captured. After parading him down the main street in chains, the firemen dumped him out of town. But they weren't really angry. In fact they plan to invite him back for another whirl next year.

Actually, the clowning firebug was part of a colorful fire prevention campaign put on by chamber of commerce. It was so successful that similar campaigns are being planned in other parts of the nation.

State and national inspection groups have found that fire prevention can be a terribly dull topic. So they've set out to liven it up with some "hoop-la" tactics.

The campaign in Magnolia, population 800, is a fine example. While trained inspectors from the state fire prevention association were making the rounds of stores and public buildings to point out hazards, the "Stupid Caricature" character and others like him were out building up popular attention for the program by setting some bad examples.

A skeleton called the Fifth Horse man elbowed his way through down town crowds handing out calling cards. They invited the takers to pay his attention to the campaign, but to "follow me and have a rendezvous with death."

Meanwhile, "Stupid" was happily calling attention to a miserable looking fellow wearing a barrel. The barrel proclaimed: "I didn't believe in fire prevention."

At busy intersections, "Shorty Snudge," a puppet, mystified the crowds by apparently talking with out the aid of a ventriloquist.

Special attention was given to school children. While an official attempted to explain the chemistry of fire logically, the clown called "Stupid" upset his experiments, set fire to kerosene, three lighted cigarettes into trash baskets and generally created havoc.

The effect was stupendous. For days afterward, the children would not give their parents a minute's peace if gasoline or cigarettes were used at all carelessly.

Other "come-ons" included field demonstrations by the fire department, poster contests, movies, comedy skits, and newspaper and radio publicity.

The climax was a parade with "Stupid" in chains and the subdued Fifth Horseman riding a horse. The town bands, Scouts and nearly every organization in the community marched noisily behind.

Has all the hoop-la paid off? —Yes, resoundingly so, say the state associations and the National Board of Fire Underwriters. In nearly all towns where such tactics have been tried, the reduction of fire hazards has been record breaking.

In one town of 37,000 for example, 79.6 per cent of the 589 buildings inspected were found defective and 1413 recommendations were made. Within two months after the inspection townspeople reported that 44 per cent of the suggestions had been followed.

Resumption of Off-Record Talks Asked

Munsan, April 17 (AP) — Communist truce negotiators pressed again today for immediate resumption of the off-the-record talks on how to exchange prisoners of the Korean War.

The Reds made a similar suggestion Sunday. The U. N. Command has not replied.

Would Bar Red Writers From Congress

Washington, April 17 (AP) — A renewed demand that representatives of Tass, the Soviet news agency, be barred from the congressional press galleries was heard today at the opening convention session of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE).

Reminding the society that Associated Press Correspondent William Oatis remains imprisoned in Czechoslovakia, ASNE President Alexander F. Jones told 350 editors:

"Our State Department seems to consider that American citizens can only be protected by paying ransom or invoking economic sanctions."

"I am not proud of our course in allowing our reporters in Iron Curtain countries to become harassed, frightened, useless representatives of our free press. We are taking it lying down."

With assent of ASNE's board of directors, Jones last fall called on the standing committee of correspondents to bar Tass representatives from the congressional press galleries on grounds they were not "bonafide representatives of the press of their country." The standing committee declined, saying Tass membership was "consistent with the American concept of a free press."

Jones, who is editor of the Syracuse N. Y. Herald-Journal, disclosed today some members of the ASNE board disagreed with him, but declared:

"As certainly as I stand here, the present intolerable press relations between the U. S. and the nations behind the Iron Curtain cannot long continue — with our reporters in Moscow being held as virtual hostages and subjected to every indignity; William Oatis in prison in Czechoslovakia and Pavlov, the Soviet delegate at the Paris meeting of U. N. declaring that the next American correspondent arrested will consider Oatis fortunate to be only in prison."

"This while Mikhail Fedorov, head of the Tass bureau here, an aeronautical engineer sent from Moscow to head a spy ring, uses a Russian government communications system without censorship."

Antlers are made of bone while horns usually are modified skin and the horn of a rhinoceros is modified hair.

toward breaking the twin deadlock over Red nomination of Soviet Russia as a neutral truce inspector and an Allied demand for a ban on airfield construction during an armistice.

Some observers have predicted that the stalemate will continue until an agreement is reached on prisoner exchange.

Made Captain After Season

Fayetteville, April 17 (AP) — Sammy Smith of Little Rock, the lone senior, has been elected captain of the University of Arkansas basketball team for the past season.

The Razorbacks had game captains during the season. Election of a season captain was announced by the university athletic department today.

Wind Keeps Allied Planes on Ground

Seoul, April 17 (AP) — Allied planes tied down their planes today in the teeth of roaring winds sweeping down from North Korea.

Only a few weather reconnaissance planes flew.

On the ground, the Reds threw a series of light jabs at Allied lines on the Western Front. All were hurled back.

The Navy said in Tokyo that the American destroyer-escort Silverstein recently escaped unharmed from "probably the heaviest attack of the Korean War against a United Nations warship."

Red shore batteries south of Hungnam on the East Coast fired 80 rounds at the Silverstein. Crewmen reported 45 splashes within 200 yards of the ship.

The Navy said, "Rapid and accurate changes in range and deflection indicated the rest were using modern fire control equipment."

Allied warships pounded the North Korean East Coast Wednesday. Carrier-based planes hit Red positions southwest of Chinnampo on the west.

Despite bad flying weather, B-29 Superforts attacked the battered rail bridge at Sinanju Tuesday night.

B-29 light bombers used radar in bombing rail yards near Sukchon. Other B-29 pilots reported 31 Red trucks destroyed on North Korean highways.

In a spectacular ground action Wednesday, about 20 Allied tanks raided Red lines near Kumsong on the Central Front.

A U. S. Eighth Army staff officer said 12 Reds were killed, 78 probably killed and 154 wounded. The tankers reported they shot up 85 bunkers, 39 buildings, 29 communication trenches, one artillery piece and eight machine-gun positions.

Two tanks were damaged.

COMPLETE STEAL

Berlin, April 17 — Thefts of bicycles in front of the West Berlin police headquarters had prompted the chief to post a large sign reading:

"You park here at your own risk."

Today the sign and the bicycle stand were stolen.

GOPs Dislike Seizure of Steel Industry

Washington, April 17 (AP) — The Senate may be asked today to show its disapproval of President Truman's seizure of the steel industry by voting against use of certain funds to enforce the order.

A group of Republican senators yesterday sought to force a showdown on the question by offering an amendment to a deficiency appropriations bill barring use of any part of its $960,641,000 funds to enforce the order which put control of the steel industry under the secretary of commerce.

Actually, none of the money requested by the President in the bill was for that purpose. The measure carries some funds for the Commerce Department but only for its aviation and highway activities.

However, Minority Leader Bridges (R-NH), one of the sponsors of the amendment, described it as "a vehicle Congress could use to express its disapproval of the President's action."

Sen. Hill (D-Ala.), an Appropriations Committee member, told a reporter he was confident the amendment would be opposed strongly on the Democratic side.

Some Democrats said it was not relevant to the bill, which finances operation of various government agencies for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30. Largest single item is 348 million dollars to cover the 10 per cent pay raise voted for federal workers by Congress last year.

The supplemental money bill technically was the pending business throughout yesterday's session but no votes were taken. Senators mostly talked about other things.

When the Senate does get down to business on the measure, they also will be a test on a practice some lawmakers have denounced for years — wiping out previous money-saving votes by financing the same projects through deficiency bills.

CHAPTER THIRTY

HENRI returned to his notes on the Lemay family. He wished Heloise would have a little more sense of social fitness.

"She, I kin teach her to swim good," he heard Joseph Newman saying confidently. "First I teach her to float."

Henri did not catch what was said next, but it was followed by laughter, and he cocked his ears. He suspected that the conversation was becoming unseemly, but all he could find out was that a picnic was being planned.

"We could ask them," Leonie said, "that would make eight."

Henri charged upstairs again.

"What's the matter now? Have you been bitten by another rat?" Heloise inquired.

"They are planning a picnic at the Isle of Palms."

"Good," Heloise said. "I could enjoy one myself."

"I want you to put your foot down," Henri told her, "and insist on a chaperone."

"Are they going to stay over-night?"

"I don't see what difference that makes."

"How did you find all this out? I thought you were busy on your affairs."

"I can't help hearing when they talk so loud. I tell you I don't like this business. They were talking about teaching Leonie to swim, and that young Newman said of course he would have to hold her in the water, and then they laughed at something else—I couldn't hear what. If there are going to be doing things like that, a chaperone is absolutely necessary."

"Well, I veto the idea here and now. You'll put an end to this picnic if you insist on having old people around and making everybody uncomfortable."

"Sister," Henri said, "I don't understand you."

But Heloise was in one of her ruthless moods. "Go back downstairs," she said. "You may be missing something."

"We talkin' about a picnic on the Isle of Palms," Joseph informed Henri.

"That so?" Henri replied. "The underdog is very strong there, sometimes."

"Not where we goin'," Joseph said. "Besides, I kin pull any of 'em out of trouble. You needn't worry, Mr. Lemay."

"Leonie," Henri asked, "what happened to that pair of waterwings you used to wear in bathing?"

"They rotted away long ago," Leonie said. "Besides, I'm not that bad at swimming."

"I'll take care of Leonie, huh," Joseph said.

Murphy to Be Ambassador to Japan

Washington, April 16 (AP)—President Truman was expected to send to the Senate, probably today, the nomination of veteran diplomat Robert D. Murphy as America's first postwar ambassador to Japan.

The action would follow closely on yesterday's signing by the President of the Japanese Peace Treaty, completing United States ratification of the document. Its effective date is April 28.

Murphy, now ambassador to Belgium, was chosen for the important post because of a varied 31-year career which has made him one of the country's most experienced diplomats.

Tall, bald and affable, the 57-year-old envoy is a veteran of difficult overseas assignments—almost all in Europe. But for the past month, he has been undergoing intensive briefing at the State Department on the complex problems expected in the new phase of Japanese-American relations.

He has been envoy to Belgium the past two years. Before that he was a top authority on German affairs. He served mostly in Germany and France until he went to Algiers after the German invasion of France. He helped pave the way for the World War II Allied invasion of North Africa.

He is a native of Milwaukee. Japan's new ambassador to the U. S. is expected to be Vice Foreign Minister Sadao Oguchi, first secretary at the embassy, when the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, plunged his country into war with America.

Yesterday's informal signing by the president will be followed by a more formal ceremony April 28 depositing the treaty in the State Department's archives.

The Japanese treaty is not in full effect until at least seven of the 12 nations who signed the document in San Francisco last year have ratified and deposited it with the State Department.

Four nations have completed action.

A Japanese security treaty which Truman also signed yesterday authorizes the U. S. to retain troops indefinitely in and near Japan to guard the Japanese, almost entirely unarmed since their surrender Sept. 2, 1945, against attack.

Another in the series of actions restoring normal relations between Japan and this country was announced in Tokyo last night. Japan said she is ready to deposit 20 million dollars with the Federal Reserve Bank to meet accrued interest on prewar Japanese dollar bonds held in this country. The securities total around 70 million dollars in face value and overdue interest has run them up to around 100 million.

Democrats May Televis Program

New York, April 16 (AP)—Democratic State Committee Chairman Paul F. Fitzpatrick has announced plans for radio and television broadcasting of the committee's annual fund-raising dinner tomorrow night.

Fitzpatrick said in a statement the National Broadcasting Company's nationwide radio network would carry the speeches while the American Broadcasting Company beams the dinner over its New York State television network.

Speakers at the dinner include a number of persons mentioned prominently in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Those whose speeches will be broadcast, Fitzpatrick said, are Sens. Robert S. Kerr, Oklahoma; Estes Kefauver, Tennessee; Brien McMahon, Connecticut; Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Illinois and Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

Fitzpatrick said both broadcasts are scheduled between 9:30 and 10 p. m. (CST).

Battle Casualties Climb to 107,371

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 107,371 today, an increase of 437 since last week.

The Defense Department's weekly summary based on notifications to families through last Friday reported:

Killed in action 16,848, an increase of 69; wounded 77,867, an increase of 189 and missing 12,536, a decrease of 21.

In many animals the same sense organs are used for both taste and smell.

Asks Speed Up in Flood Control

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Senators and today they ask Congress to direct a construction speed-up of flood control projects along the Missouri River.

As President Truman flew west for a first hand observation of the damage, some senators were asking the Army Engineers to complete more rapidly the dams and levees now underway to hold back flood waters.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Appropriations Committee said he would support a speed-up program.

U. S. Reds Taught Art of Forearms

Los Angeles, April 16 (AP)—A group of American Communists who went to Moscow in 1932 were taught proficiency in small arms and machine guns and how to build street barricades and overturn autos and streetcars, says a former party member.

Leonard Patterson, 46, New York Negro and former Young Communist League leader, told the conspiracy trial of 15 California Communist leaders yesterday that the purpose of the training was to make the Americans "better revolutionaries."

He testified that one of the persons he recruited for the Moscow trip was defendant Loretta S. Stack. He said she won rifle-shooting prizes at a Communist school and was taught to use a bayonet by Red Army instructors.

Although most snakes are found in the tropics, there are snakes on most of the world's land surfaces except near the poles and on a few islands.

U. S. Planes Mangle Enemy Rail Lines

Seoul, Korea, April 16 (AP)—U. S. fighter-bombers today cut North Korean rail lines in 52 places, the Fifth Air Force announced.

Pilots said they killed 10 Red soldiers in an attack on a rail line near Sariwon, north of Jaegu on North Korea's west coast and 17 more in close support smashes along the battlefield.

The Air Force also said its planes destroyed two anti-aircraft weapons and six field pieces.

The fighter-bombers roared to the attack through heavy clouds under a protective screen of F-86 Sabre jets.

A flurry of Red probing jabs on the Western Front Tuesday evening touched off an Allied artillery barrage that lasted most of the night.

Sound of the big guns could be heard in Seoul, more than 40 miles south.

The Reds jabbed into lines at four places west and north of Mun-sun. Three probes were hurled back. The fourth, supported by 600 rounds of artillery and mortar, drove U. N. troops from an advance position.

In the same area, a Red outpost repulsed two assaults by an Allied patrol.

The action marked a shift of Communist pressure from the Eastern and East-Central sectors.

Allied night bombers attacked Communist supply lines Tuesday night. B-26 pilots reported 28 trucks, two locomotives and 12 box cars destroyed. B-29 Superforts attacked the Chonju rail bridge and Communist front lines.

Naval and Marine war planes from American carriers pounded both coasts of North Korea Tuesday. Pilots from the Philippine Sea and Boxer attacked rail targets in the Hamhung-Wonsan-Yangdok triangle on the East. Across the Peninsula, Marine fliers from the Bairoko reported destruction of more than 100 buildings and six gun positions.

Paring of Foreign Aid Bill Begins

Washington, April 16 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today begins its paring of President Truman's $7,900,000,000 foreign aid bill behind closed doors.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) predicted the group will trim at least a billion dollars off the President's request.

Most other members expected cuts. But the measure appeared to have more friends now than when Truman sent it to the Capitol six weeks ago.

Commissioners Open Meet

Hill Springs, Va., April 17 — The National Association of Collegiate Commissioners opened a four-day annual meeting here today in an atmosphere of peace and harmony.

Chief among the knotty problems expected to come before the meeting is the set of controversial recommendations of the special committee on athletic policy of the American Council on Education.

As Dushnell, president of the commissioners group and Eastern College Athletic Conference commissioner, indicated the ACE recommendations may become the principal topic of conversation.

And one of the early arrivals, who declined use of his name, took due note of Dushnell's remarks. He said he anticipated a lot of didn't care to predict what might happen.

The commissioners simply agree as best they can on certain principles they believe and then recommend that their various conferences carry out such practices.

Robinson Takes Measure of Graziano

New York, April 17 — Many a second glimmer must have read a feature breaking on display that two such seasoned professional fighters as Sammy Sneed and Al Wall had been penalized for breaking one of the oldest rules of the game to the final round of the Graziano, N. C., fight on Monday.

The famous blunder, having been a second glimmer, was a hazard, indeed, for it still a ring killer with a quick and a paralyzing punch, is a better life than he might otherwise have had.

The average week-end player has known all along that you can't do other of these things, and it is understandable that he would not have made such a task as we would like to at least attempt an explanation and, in a way, to even any criticism of the two players involved.

Let us begin by saying that for a period of 15 years or more, and, with a slugging like him and later artists who played the big winter money trail through the South more or less made their own rules as they went along. The best sponsors and the fans wanted low scores, no matter how poor the playing conditions, and they got 'em.

Some newsmen, who were certain individuals cutting corners, though they undoubtedly were a few who crept at it, large money was at stake, and a player didn't get his share by sitting up nights reading the rules. He couldn't afford to be finicky if he expected to eat.

Fort Worth at Top of League

Dallas, April 17 (AP) — Ft. Worth's Cats strutted at the top of the Texas League today. It's pitchers' league and Ft. Worth has the pitchers.

In three nights Cat hurlers have given up only 11 hits. Last night Joe Landrum was the man on the mound and he allowed Oklahoma City just three bingles in licking the Indians 7-3. He followed a 1-hitter by James Nelson and a 7-hitter by Elroy Face, both shutouts at Dallas.

Houston traveled 13 innings last night in knocking Shreveport out of a tie for the lead with Ft. Worth. Rookie Pitcher Mel Tappe walked in two runs to give Houston a 7-6 decision. A bases loaded home by Jerry Witte, who batted in five runs during the night, featured the Houston offense.

No Doubt That Profits Are Down

By SAM DAWSON

New York, April 17 (AP) — These are the days stockholders flock to annual meetings eager to find out one thing: "What's the prospect for earnings this year—and dividends?" Top company brass is telling them as best it can. At most meetings this week the report has been that profits are down — with unkind words being said about "Oil Double Taxes." But a large number of the executives are forecasting a satisfactory year ahead. And some back their confidence in the future by announcing expansion plans.

Stockholders of the giant American Telephone & Telegraph Co. meet today. Earnings are running about level with last year, President C. D. Craig says and adds cheerily: "Throughout the country there is a continuing strong demand for telephone service."

More than 2,000 shareholders of General Electric hear from President Ralph J. Cordiner that both sales and earnings are down—and taxes cost the company $1,000 every 78 seconds. But GE is upping by 200 million dollars the amount it plans to spend on a 4-year expansion program, now set at $50,000,000 million dollars.

Sales of Union Carbide & Carbon set a first quarter record and Morse O. Dial, executive vice president, tells stockholders: "We anticipate that total sales for the year will exceed sales in 1951, unless we have a further decline in general business." Profits are down, however—taxes, again.

Two rubber companies tell varying stories. B. F. Goodrich sales are running 12 per cent below a year ago, John L. Collier, chairman and president reports. Part of this was because of a strike at Akron. But he thinks the industry as a whole will have another high

Lifer Hangs Himself

Huntville, Tex., April 16 (AP) — Sam Smithwick, 64, former Jim Wells County deputy sheriff serving a life sentence for the shooting of radio man W. H. (Bill) Mason of Alice, Tex., was found dead by hanging in his cell here last night.

A prison guard found the hanged man hanging by a towel. Smithwick had taken a towel, twisted it, tied it around his neck and then anchored it to the top bulk of double-decker beds in his cell.

A guard check at 11 p.m. had found everything okay. Mason, 51, a veteran newspaperman and crusading radio commentator, was shot to death as he sat in his automobile on a street in Alice, Tex., July 29, 1948.

Smithwick was convicted Jan. 25, 1950. He claimed self-defense.

Would Continue Parity Program

Washington, April 16 (AP) — Sen. Young (R-ND) said today the present parity price formula for the basic commodities—wheat, cotton, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco—should be continued for an indefinite period.

In prepared testimony Young asked the Senate Agriculture Committee to approve a bill he and Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) introduced to carry this out.

The Young-Russell measure would knock out a provision of the 1948 farm act that provides for new modernized parity formula to go into effect beginning in 1954 on corn, cotton, wheat and peanuts. Young said that under the modernized parity formula there would be a drop of 32 cents a bushel on wheat, 15 cents on corn and two cents a pound on peanuts and cotton. Only rice and tobacco, he said, would be higher under the modernized parity formula.

U. S. Rubber sales are up about four per cent, Chairman H. E. Humphreys Jr., tells stockholders, but net income is off 30 per cent—higher costs and higher taxes.

Many textile stockholders fear to hear the worst at the annual meetings this year, but President C. F. H. Johnson tells Botany Mills shareholders that sales are now running ahead of last year, although profits are unsatisfactory.

Alexander Smith, rug maker, has "very good" prospects for earnings this year, President F. C. Ebling says, believing the worst is over. Chairman Louis S. Cates tells Phelps Dodge shareholders that profits are off in the first quarter but he hopes to "show good earnings for the year." And the company plans more production, further expansion.

American Locomotive sales and earnings are up there was a strike last year, and first quarter profits this year set a record, says D. W. Fraser, chairman and president.

Despite "burdensome taxation," Sun Oil profits should be about level with last year, Chairman Joseph N. Pew Jr., says. The company is spending 110 million dollars this year on expansion.

Sales up, profits down—that's the story for Diamond Alkali.

Earnings up a little for McCall, magazine publishers, President Marvin Pierce reports.

Earnings outlook favorable, President H. E. Widdell tells stockholders of Arthur G. McKee Co., construction engineers.

Political Storms in Both Parties

Washington, April 17 (AP) — For a little while it looked like this might be a fairly calm summer for the two political parties.

It would have simplified things for the Democratic convention next July if President Truman wanted to run again. Only a few weeks ago it seemed he might.

And if he didn't, the talk went, he'd try to get the nomination for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. That would have paved the road for Stevenson.

But Truman crossed up the picture. He decided not to run himself. And he wouldn't endorse Stevenson or anyone else.

Then Stevenson camp let a few things even more by announcing yesterday he didn't want the White House job either.

That threw the lists wide open. When the Stevenson announcement hit yesterday, the general reaction was: "Who now?"

Sen. Kefauver has been going around saying, "My name is Estes Kefauver, ma'am, and I'd sure appreciate your vote."

Has been doing right well at it, better than any other Democrat, in fact. But this doesn't make him any odds-on favorite for the Democratic nomination. He's worked hard for it. He'll have to keep working.

At this moment, the convention among a lot of would-be candidates, some of whom haven't even appeared in the open yet but who'll feel harrer now, with Truman and Stevenson gone.

From the way things are going among the Republicans their convention next July ought to be a hectic one.

Just a short time ago the backers of Gen. Eisenhower sounded as if the trip to the White House was just a short hike with Ike.

That was after his victory over Sen. Taft in New Hampshire and Minnesota. The general won without a speech, or a handshake, and without being in this country.

It was also before Taft, who has his heart set on the white building on Pennsylvania Avenue, began to lasso delegates in large flocks in other states.

And even though Eisenhower got more votes than Taft in the New Jersey primary Tuesday, the senator in his usual energetic way was already elsewhere putting in a plug for himself.

At the moment it might seem that the problems of the Republican convention will be simplified to the extent of having to choose between two men only, the general and the senator.

But it may not turn out that way. They may knock themselves out of the nomination if their supporters stand steadfast in a deadlock and yield only enough to nominate someone else as a compromise.

Phantom Tells Why He Shot Women

Los Angeles, April 17 (AP) — Los Angeles "phantom gunman," the shoot-and-run sniper who has killed one woman and wounded four, gave sheriff's deputies this explanation for his acts:

"When I shoot at women I get excited and get a thrill out of it." Even Charles Thomas, 29, husky, sun-tanned railroad switchman, was arrested yesterday after a shot in the night narrowly missed a woman in the Los Nietos district.

Mumbling and nervous, Thomas, father of two children, told deputies this story:

Eight months ago he bought a .22 rifle which he kept under the back seat of his car. His depredations began one night when his wife and children were visiting her mother and he felt "at loose ends."

"I remember the first time I pulled the trigger," he said. "I was driving past this little coffee stand on Atlantic. I saw this girl sitting there. I stopped about 500 yards away and went into an alley with the rifle."

"She had the cup to her face. I aimed at it. I wanted to knock the cup out of her hand. But I hit her in the head."

Thomas attributed the shootings to an unnatural urge, but said he had "no rhyme or reason for choosing victims."

Deputies said the coffee stand victim was Mrs. Nina Marie Bice, 25, mother of three. They said Thomas also implicated himself in four other shootings last fall.

He was arrested after deputies noticed him hovering close as they investigated the firing of a .22 bullet into the home of Mrs. Joan Hiles, 23, his neighbor. The shot crashed through a window while she watched television and missed her by less than three feet.

He was booked on suspicion of murder, attempted murder and felonious assault.

Ike Surprised at Light Vote

Paris, April 16 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower indicated some surprise today at the lightness of the votes in the New Jersey presidential primary election in which he defeated Sen. Robert A. Taft.

"Weren't they expecting more than a million votes?" he asked, when shown late election results by reporters at Orly Airfield seeing him off on a farewell flight to Brussels.
